

GSG International - the CCTV distribution market leader in Italy for over 10 years, has launched NETTO PRESALES UK, specifically intended for the UK market, this is an exciting new concept in on-line sales available through the Nettosecurity Sales Portal!

www.NETTOSECURITY.com, the web shop for GSG International, offers simple and easy on-line equipment sales of its high-quality ranges. Nettosecurity is not only taking advantage of all the benefits associated with web selling, such as low prices and high stock availability but it is also providing the additional services normally associated with face-to-face selling and support.

The idea behind this form of on-line CCTV distribution is that it is not just about "shifting boxes" but is it instead designed to provide the personalised support, which is essential for a Pan-European company operating as a Business to Business organisation.

The implementation of a security system is not just about connecting bits of equipment together. It requires a combination of ideas and design, a project plan, the integration of solutions, the use of high quality branded devices at the right price and a quick and easy installation process supported by knowledgeable value added resellers. The aim of Nettosecurity is to ensure installers are fully supported through-out all elements of this process, helping to ensure the right equipment is chosen and can be installed and maintained efficiently.
